KEVIN HARRIS PROJECT/Museum V. 1: So what does the preferred piano man of the hipper downtown jazzbos do when he gets the chance to step out on his own as a leader? Well, he doesn't disappoint those that know his touch for one. Certainly a left leaning but accessible date, Harris and his cronies keep it downtown with a certain 50s hipster bent that let's you know you are in for some seriously good sitting down jazz. Treating his songs as museum art pieces, he doesn't do anything to make you want to take him down a notch and put his feet back on the ground. Well conceived art jazz that delivers the goods beyond the expected.
